

Malta Marittima has joined forces in an Interreg project to help develop a sustainable blue economy

Malta Marittima is a key stakeholder in an Interreg projects to help government develop a better Maritime strategy and ensure that government's investment in innovation and implementation lead to an integrated and sustainable economic activity. Malta Enterprise is the partner in the Interreg project - called RELOS3 - and Malta Marittima has joined forces to push the agenda for an integrated and improved Maritime Industry.

RELOS3: Bringing together the Maltese blue economy stakeholders and foster innovation

The RELOS3 project focuses on implementing regional Smart Specialisation Strategies (RIS3) in a local context by actively involving local authorities, innovation actors and industry. Policy makers and experts from Estonia, Italy, the Netherlands, Poland, Spain and Malta participate in the RELOS3 project to contrast, develop and improve local policies with the aim to facilitate deployment of priority investments and delivery of innovation at a local level.

Maritime services have been identified locally as requiring particular action in this respect. Malta Enterprise together with MCST and Malta Marittima have undertaken the required research, stakeholder meetings and interregional visits, and are in the process of identifying the main issues the sector is dealing with and address these in a Local Action Plan.

Malta Marittima is a key stakeholder for the project, having a major input regarding the actions required for improvement in the local maritime services industry.
